Tim Foster

President of Mesa State College

Dear Mavericks Fan:

Whether in the classroom, playing field or the hardwood, Mesa State is committed to providing a student-focused, experiential learning environment. As part of this commitment, the College provides a variety of intercollegiate and club competitive athletic opportunities for our students.

Making the most of these opportunities, many of Mesa State's student-athletes are excelling in both the athletic arena and the classroom. Along with earning more than 60 conference championships, our athletes, both past and present, have earned academic awards at the college, conference and national levels. We had ten teams that earned regional berths in 2009-2010. Just this past year alone, 45 of our student-athletes were named to the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference All-Academic Team, three to the All-Region Academic Team and one RMAC Academic Player of the Year. We also had two student-athletes named as All-Americans, Alexis Skarda by U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association for track and field and Mike Dominguez by Daktronics and by Division II Bulletin for basketball.

These remarkable individuals are proving that the skills needed for athletic success – dedication, focus, teamwork, dealing with success and adversity, perseverance and good old hard work – are the same skills required to make significant academic accomplishments. By engaging in both scholarship and the high ideals of sportsmanship, they are enriching their college experiences, paving the way for successful careers and serving as positive role models for the next generation of student athletes.

Thank you for supporting Mesa State College athletics and our high-achieving student athletes. This year promises to continue the tradition of great athletic accomplishments and we hope you'll share your enthusiasm and love of sport with the Mavericks. We'll see you at the games!

Regards,

Tim Foster
President of Mesa State College

Last year the Mavericks enjoyed it's most successful season ever with 10 regional appearances, including six spring sport teams advancing to regional tournaments. The men's tennis team won the central region pod and advanced to the schools' first ever appearance in the Division II National Tennis Championships Sweet 16.

All-America runner Alexis Skarda became the first women's track & field athlete to qualify for the NCAA Track & Field Championships and the schools' first All-American in Outdoor Track & Field.

The men's basketball team was crowned RMAC regular season champion advancing to the NCAA central regional tournament as the number 2 seed. MSC made school history winning its first NCAA DII tournament game and its first NCAA DII All-American in Mike Dominguez.

January 16, 2010 marked the first home swim meet in the El Pomar Natatorium on the MSC campus.

Wrestling's Tyler Juby qualified for the NCAA National Tournament at 149 lb. weight class. MSC's women's golf and tennis, baseball and softball team all earned post season tournament berths.

MSC student-athletes continue to leave their mark in the classroom. In 2009-'10 the Mavericks had three Academic All Americans and one RMAC Academic Player of the Year. The Mavericks placed 45 student-athletes on the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference All-Academics Teams.

"MSC President Tim Foster and our Board of Trustees have provided the athletic department staff with first class facilities and a work environment that allows us the opportunity to recruit the best student athletes from anywhere in the country", said Miller.

As Associate Athletic Director, Miller oversaw the athletic departments' fund raising, corporate sponsor liaison and golf card coordinator from 2003-2008. Prior to his Associate AD duties he served as the Corporate Sponsor Sales Director from 2000-2003.
